Alice Hoffman (born March 16, 1952) is an American novelist and young-adult and children's writer, best known for her 1995 novel Practical Magic, which was adapted for a 1998 film of the same name. Many of her works fall into the genre of magic realism and contain elements of magic, irony, and non-standard romances and relationships.

Alice Hoffman - Wikipedia

In her novel, Here on Earth, Hoffman does an excellent job in creating her characters: March, Holla, Gwen, and Hank. March is a character that most women can relate to at some point in their life. The long lost love that is rekindled, and although at points I was very frustrated with March's decision to stay with the controlling Hollas, I could understand what was making her stay and how she was thinking.
